

Recirculation System

It is a closed cycle production system (recirculation) consisting of 8 lagoons with an average of 10 hectares and a decanter designed to reduce the amount of used water used and improve the quality of the effluents of the shrimp farming system. Automatic feeding systems which contribute to a more efficient food distribution and aeration systems which improve the oxygen circulation in the system are also used.

